ABSTRACT

This directory is designed to allow media specialists in regional areas of Oklahoma to share their experiences in computer applications for libraries. The first of two sections lists schools using computers for circulation, computerized catalogs, library management, CD-ROM, laser disk programs, and online information systems. Schools are listed according to the 11 automation regions that correspond to the Oklahoma Telecommunications Interlibrary System, and within that listing, under the category of computer use. The name of the software used is listed for each school and, if there is more than one version of the software, the hardware being used. Complete addresses, phone numbers, and building-level contacts for each of the schools are provided in the second section. It is noted that the sharing of information on the use of computers in libraries will provide state decision-makers with valuable input. (DB)

INTRODUCTION

This directory of computer applications in Oklahoma library media centers is an outgrowth of the Oklahoma Micro-Based Library Management Training Seminar, held in the fall of 1989. This seminar involved 51 library media professionals from across the state in an intense six-day workshop designed to train a core group to serve as resource persons in library automation.

In addition to this directory, two other documents were developed to meet the needs of building-level library media specialists in making decisions about automation. They are A Plan for the Development of Technology in Library Media Centers and Automation at the Local Level. They will be used in regional automation workshops and are also available from the Library Resources/Technology Section of the Oklahoma State Department of Education.

This directory is designed to allow media specialists in regional areas of the state to share their experiences in computer applications for libraries. The first section of the directory lists schools using computers for circulation, computerized catalogs and library management purposes. Complete addresses, phone numbers, and building-level contacts can be located in the second section of the directory.

It is our hope that this guide will lead to the sharing of pertinent information regarding the use of computers in libraries. Through the sharing of experiences, successes and failures, decision-makers throughout the state will have valuable input from those who have traveled the road before them.

AUTOMATION REGIONS

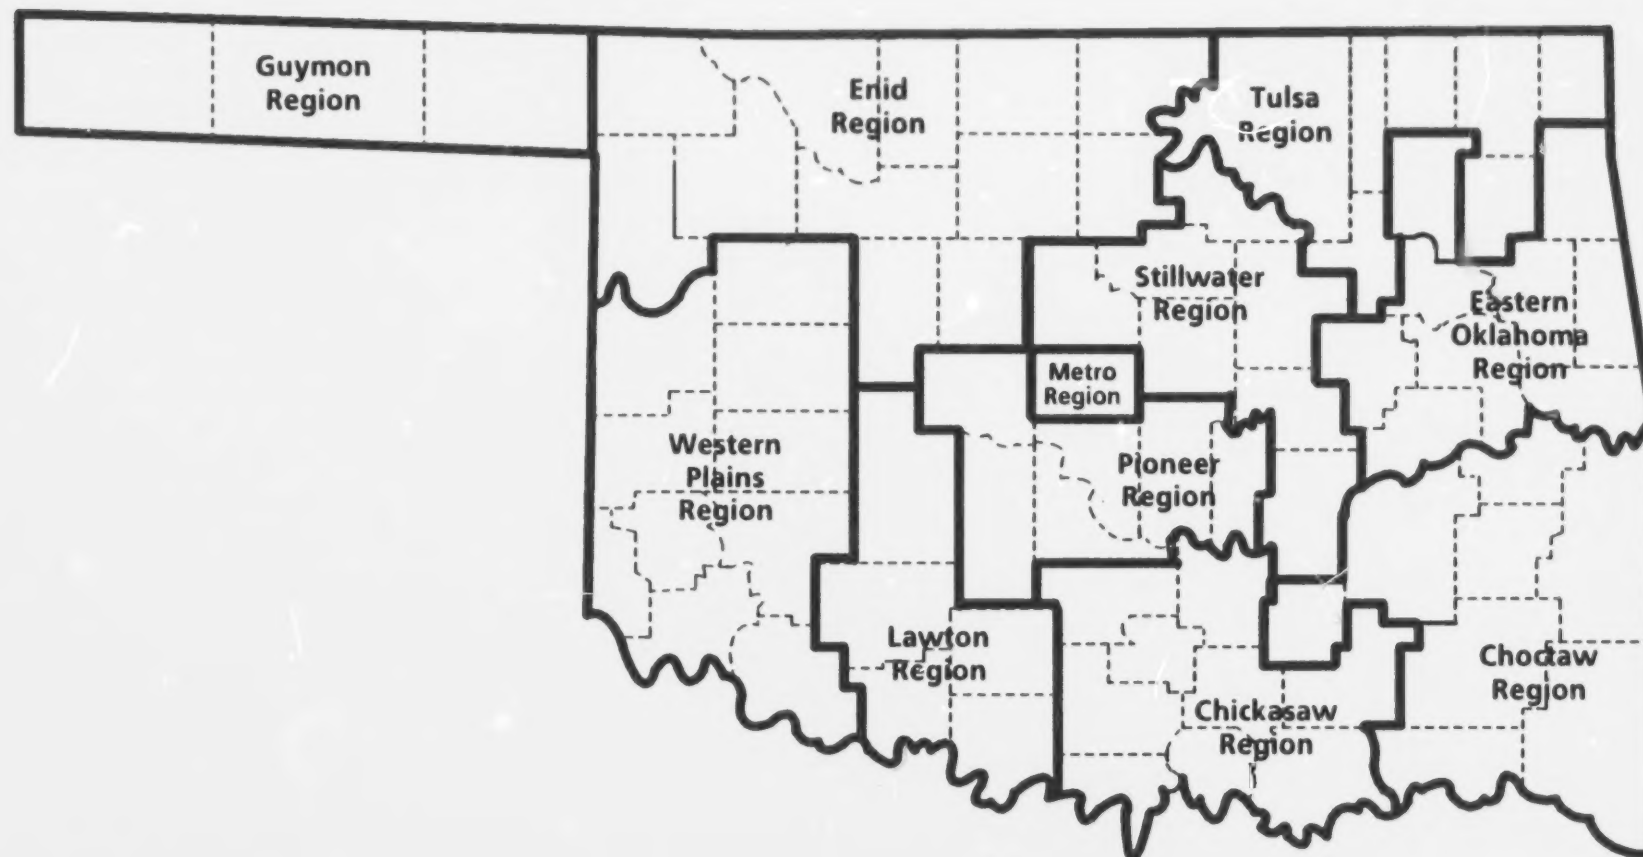

2

The state of Oklahoma has been divided into 11 automation regions corresponding to the Oklahoma Telecommunications Interlibrary System. This directory is designed to allow media specialists in each region to communicate with each other about computer applications for libraries before contacting schools in other regions.

STATEWIDE AUTOMATION TASK FORCE

This task force is made up of 11 members, one from each of the 11 automation regions. The primary responsibilities of the Automation Task Force will be to :

- Assist with regional workshops
- Be available by telephone to answer questions from local districts
- Develop regional user groups
- Chair the Regional Automation Committee
- Serve as an advisor to the State Department of Education Library Resources/Technology Section

Task force members are:

Lou Nelson, Guymon High School

Pat Davis, Enid High School

Les Price, Southwestern Oklahoma State University

Karen Williams, Oklahoma State Department of Vocational/Technical Education

Carolyn O'Brien, Choctaw High School

Jerry Burris, Norman Central Mid-High School

Pat Kardaleff, Lincoln Elementary School, Lawton

Carolyn McElroy, Will Rogers Elementary, Ardmore

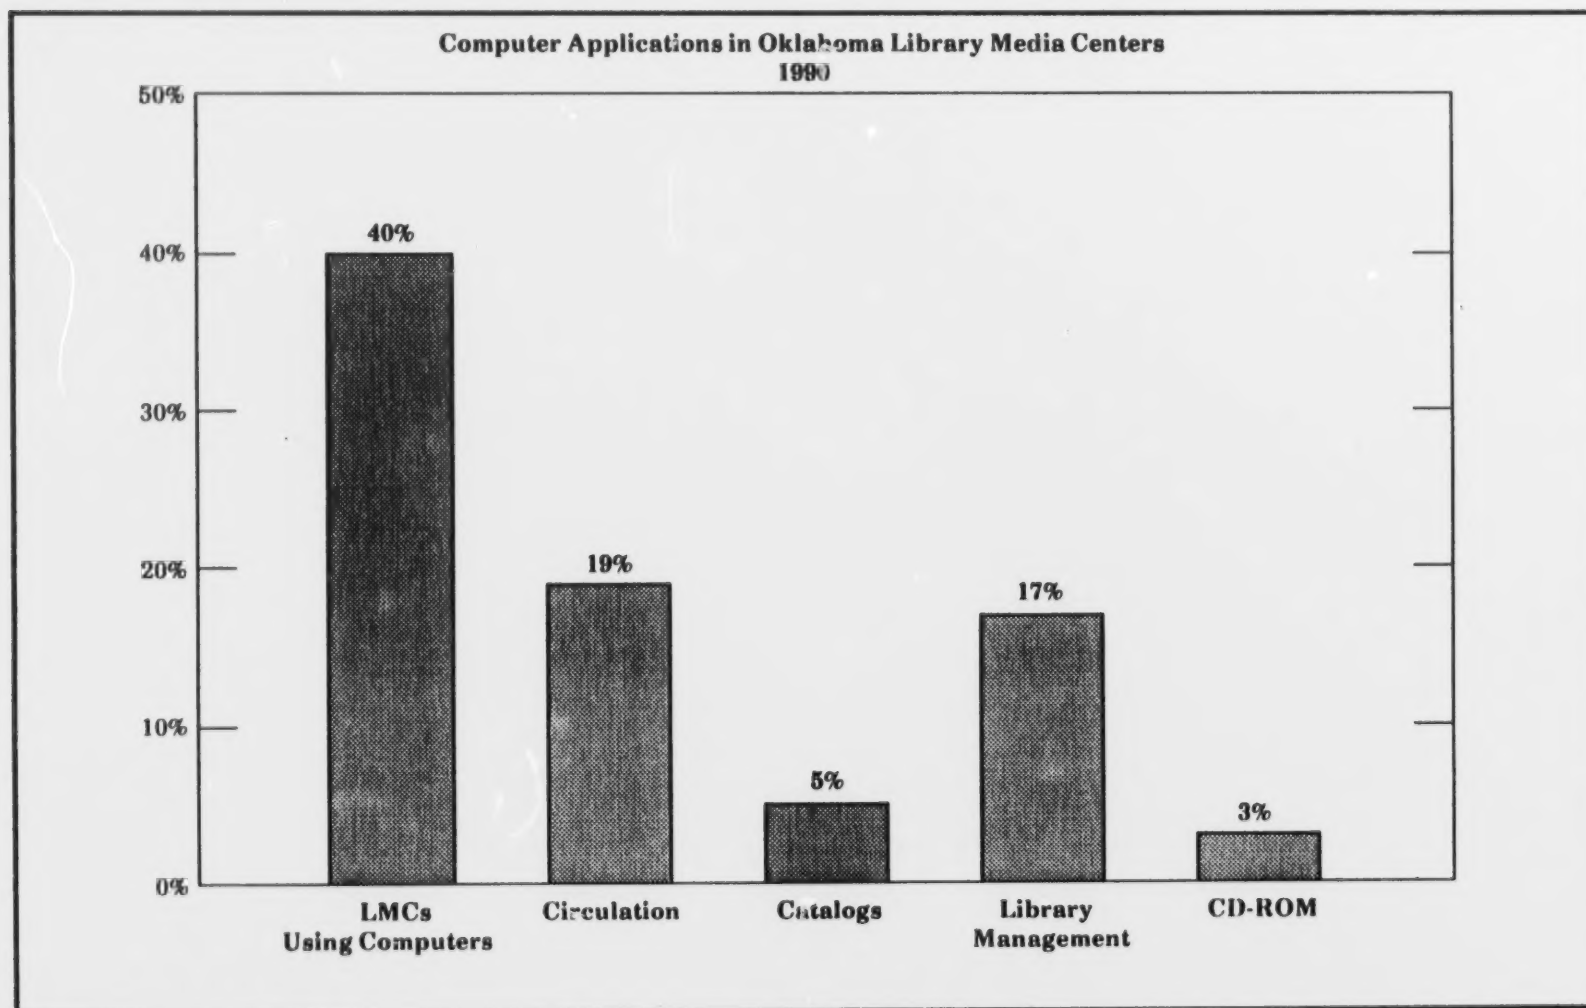

Barbara Rather, Tulsa Union

Kenie Tyrrell, Fort Gibson High School

Linda DeBerry, Idabel High School

SCHOOL LIBRARY MEDIA CENTER AUTOMATION SURVEY

In January 1990 this survey was mailed to 1,907 school building principals in the state of Oklahoma. Responses were received from all but 55 schools giving a response rate of 97%. The survey indicated that 69% of the school sites in Oklahoma were served by a centralized library media center. Additional statistics from this survey are included in the table below.
